

There are different points of view according to pocket money. Some people says that it is good when parents gave pocket money. The main reason for giving pocket money is to help children learn to managed money while they are young. Pocket money could help children feels that they am important members of the family. It help children to make choices. And parents stop giving pocket money if a child has done something wrong. But some parents says that it is bad to give pocket money to a child. They think that they is too young and they can buy something bad – alcohol, sweets, cigarettes. So in some families children are given what they ask for and do not get pocket money.
